GOLF AT SILVERADO RESORT

Golf in wine country is an extraordinary experience when you're at Silverado—the only Napa Valley resort with 36 holes of championship golf. Home to the PGA Tour Fortinet Championship, the 7,166-yard PGA North Course has been rated one of the “Best Resort Courses” in California by Golfweek. For those seeking a more relaxed day on the fairways, the 6,612-yard South Course offers an alternative that is both challenging and playable for all skill levels.

Open only to resort guests, Silverado members, and outside tournaments, it's an exclusive yet friendly experience that offers the elusive opportunity to play where the pros play.

Napa's home for golf —and tournaments

Silverado's two 18-hole courses—designed by Robert Trent Jones, Jr. and since redesigned by PGA Hall of Famer Johnny Miller—have a rich history. Before 2014, when it became the annual host of what is now known as the Fortinet Championship, the award-winning North Course hosted PGA Tour events from 1968 through 1980. Meanwhile, the PGA Champions Tour played on the South Course annually from 1989 through 2002.

Past champions include golf legends such as Johnny Miller, Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Tom Watson, and Ben Crenshaw—as well as young star Max Homa, who won back-to-back Fortinet Championship titles in 2021 and 2022.
